ART FOR LUNCH: MAUD LEWIS

Date and Time: Thursday, March 25 12:15 pm - 12:45 pm

Address: 224 MAIN ST. SOUTH

Join curator, Sophie Lavoie, for this instalment of Art for Lunch focusing on Canadian folk artist Maud Lewis.

Lewis's work celebrates the beauty of her rural Nova Scotia. Despite a life of great hardship she chose to see the joy around her and paint the world she knew with the bursting heart of a happy child. Such is her legacy. Bright, colourful paintings in all seasons of fishing boats, blooming flowers, horse pulled sleighs and carriages, fluffy cats, and working oxen, capturing forever, a cherished moment in time.

The talk will begin at 12:15pm and finish at approximately 12:45pm.

Admission is by donation. To reserve a space, please call 467-2201 or email ssmith@themusekenora.ca. We will do our best to accommodate walk-ins.

Protecting Town Island, Now and Forever

Date and Time: Thursday, March 25 5:30 pm - 6:30 pm

Address: Online

If you were asked where your love for nature began, you might recall childhood memories of catching tadpoles, climbing trees or swimming away a summer's day. For generations, the natural beauty of Town Island in Lake of the Woods has provided priceless opportunities for people to connect with nature. Together with the local community, the Nature Conservancy of Canada has an incredible opportunity to protect this island.

Join us to learn about efforts to keep Town Island wild, and how its unique biodiversity can be conserved while providing a place for present and future generations to connect with nature.

Protecting Town Island, Now and Forever

Sustainability Action Plan Art Contest

Date and Time: Tuesday, March 30 8:00 am - 4:30 pm

Address: By email submission

Sustainability Art Contest

As part of the Sustainability Action Plan project, we are launching an art contest!

We are looking for images of original and local art work to showcase in the final Plan and in future project presentations. Any medium and style of art will be considered.

Pieces will be judged based on the following criteria:

1. Representation of some aspect of sustainability
2. Reflection of Kenora's local context
3. Creativity and/or originality

Submissions will be considered separately for youth (i.e., 18 years old and under) and adults.

Images should show the art piece in its entirety as clearly as possible but should not exceed 10 MB in size. JPG, PNG, TIFF formats accepted.

Submissions should be emailed to sustainability@kenora.ca and include (1) the author's name, (2) age (or at least indicate "youth" or "adult"), and (3) a title and / or short description of the piece.

Submitting an image indicates permission is being granted to the City to share this image on the City's website and in project reports and / or presentations, with acknowledgements.

The winners will receive some sustainable swag provided by the City of Kenora.

Submissions are being accepted until March 30, 2021.
